Rune Sovndahl is the proud co-founder and CEO of Fantastic Services. As a businessman with a rich background and a lot of experience in different (and some even unconventional) areas - he has served in the Danish Royal Navy and worked for Michelin-starred restaurants, major telecom providers, and a well-known travel agency, Rune finds it important to share his journey and mission with like-minded people.

This document will help you learn more about Rune, share with you his media appearance and speaker options, and how you can contact him.

Who is Rune Sovndahl?

A serial entrepreneur, best known for co-founding Fantastic Services - a revolutionary franchise company that operates in the property cleaning and maintenance industry. A company that helps people run sustainable businesses and provides customers with a seamless service experience from booking to delivery.

A few words from Rune himself

“Since 2009, we’ve managed to grow our company from £0 to £40 Million worth of services, expanded the Fantastic brand to 3 continents, created our own back end management system - ServiceOS, and we’re continuing to actively push the franchising industry thanks to our proven, revolutionary models.

When we started Fantastic Services, there was a huge gap in the industry that had to be filled. No one actually gave instant quotes to their customers. And when we looked over to the business side of things, many property maintenance companies were lacking the necessary technology and modern solutions.

Our mission was, and still is, to build a company where customers can see the price of their service instantly and book it without having to speak with a stranger over the phone. Fantastic Services’ customers now spend just under 3 minutes on average booking a service online - this is a very big and impressive improvement.

I believe that implementing people’s skills where it matters and using technology where it’s needed, is what allowed Fantastic Services to develop a well-functioning system that helps people receive quality services from professionals who truly love what they do.

That is the main reason why we’ve decided to create master and area franchising opportunities. Through them, entrepreneurs who share our core value - to help local businesses grow and thrive, can become part of our mission.”
